TRUST TO THE HOUSE

Anti-Bond Bill Opponents Have Not Lost Hope.

SENATE VOTE A SURPRISE TO THEM

Passage of the River and Harbor Appropriation Bill Over the President's Veto Accomplished with a Big Majority.

Election Contest Disposed Of.

Washington, June 3.—The passage of the anti-bond bill in the senate last evening was somewhat of a surprise to opponents of the measure, who had confidently believed that it would fail of passage. They are not discouraged, however, for they say the bill has no chance at all of meeting with favor in the house. All amendments to the bill, with a motion to postpone, were voted down by a majority of seven, and the bill was passed by a like majority—thirty two to twenty-five. A speech was made early in the day by the chairman of the finance committee, Mr. Morrill, rep., Vt., on the Dingley emergency tariff bill. In his remarks he intimated that democratic senators were so much afraid that the populists were going to get the better of them that they hurried to become populists themselves by voting for the free coinage substitute to the Dingley bill. This substitute he characterized as a "legislative whip" illustrating the old apothegm that "men are but children of a larger growth." The conference report on the Indian appropriation bill (as to Indian citizenship) was discussed from the close of Mr. Morrill's speech until 1 o'clock, when the morning hour expired, and the bill to prohibit the issuance of bonds without consent of congress, was taken up. To that bill an amendment was offered by Mr. Aldrich, rep., R. I., to add the words "unless in case of an emergency, it is necessary to preserve the public credit." The bill was advocated by Senators Brown, rep., Utah, and Teller, rep., Col., and was opposed by Allison, rep., Ia., and Chandler, rep., N. H. Mr. Cannon declared that the great beating heart of the intermountain states was for the free and unlimited coinage of silver, and looked for its leader to Henry M. Teller of Colorado, not John Sherman of Ohio. Mr. Allison characterised the risk of a relapse into the condition which prevailed between 1891 and 1879 as a most unwise and unjust thing; and said that no part of the people of the United States could be benefited by such a relapse. Mr. Chandler appealed to democratic senators not to vote a want of confidence in the president of the United States and secretary of the treasury, who were men of their own party and of their own choice. Mr. Teller said that he did not believe that the gold people need have any, or had any, fears of his attitude on the money question. Speeches against the bill were also made by Senators Burrows, rep., Mich., and Palmer, dem., Ill.

House of Representatives.

The river and harbor appropriation bill was passed over the president's veto in the house by the unexpectedly heavy vote of 220 yeas to 60 nays. There were comparatively so few votes in the negative that it was found impossible to pair absent members in favor of the bill. The republicans, with practical unanimity and thirty-nine democrats with one populist, made up the affirmative vote, while the negative vote was about equally divided between the republicans and democrats, five populists voting with them. After hearing the report of Chairman Hooker, reciting the arguments in favor of passing the bill over the veto, the house by an overwhelming vote refused to listen to any debate, despite the vigorous protest of Mr. Dockery, dem., Mo., who denounced the course taken as "unjust, unfair and unmanly." The remainder of the session, mainly, was taken up with the argument on the contested election case of Mitchell vs. Walsh, from the eighth New York district and voting upon it. The report of the majority of the elections committee recommending the seating of Mitchell, rep., in place of Walsh, was agreed to—yeas, 163; nays, 39. By this action the democratic strength in the house was reduced to ninety-seven, and that of the republicans increased to 249. A resolution was agreed to fixing the hour of meeting for the remainder of the session at 11 o'clock. In connection with this, Mr. Dingley, rep., Me., chairman of the committee on ways and means, pleaded with members to remain in their places, that the business of the house might promptly be disposed of. Mr. Cannon, rep., Ill., chairman of the committee on appropriations, expressed the opinion that congress would not adjourn finally before Friday or Saturday of next week. Conference reports on the naval appropriation bill, and the bill making appropriations for fortifications and coast defenses were presented and the former agreed to. The latter was the final report of the conferees and provided for the expenditure of $7,375,888, and authorized contracts to the amount of $4,195,076.

Martin D. Hardin of Danville, Ky., was solemnized by Rev. Dr. Ratcliffe, pastor of the church, in the presence of a company including the president of the United States and Mrs. Cleveland, the members of the cabinet and judges of the supreme court of the United States; the diplomatic corps and many others prominent in official and social circles at the capital. The wedding ceremony was a type of simplicity in all its details. The church decorations were confined to palms and other potted plants. Following the wedding a reception was held at the Hotel Normandie, and at 10:30 p. m. Mr. and Mrs. Hardin departed for their home at Bowling Green, Ky.

CAMBRIDGE CELEBRATION.

To-day Is the Big Day in the Festivities in the University City.

Boston, June 3.—To-day is the big day of the semi-centennial celebration of the city of Cambridge, and the time is being occupied with sports of various kinds, a big procession in which one division will be assigned to Harvard students, who will parade with their own band and drum corps. This evening there will be a display of fireworks. The celebration was begun yesterday in the University City in the public schools. Exercises were held in all the grammar schools and primary grades and were open to the public. Among those addressing the schools were R. G. Huling at the Agassiz, Rev. T. E. Wright at the Allston, and Prof. Whittemore at the Harvard. In the afternoon the pupils of the high school grades had a mass meeting in Sander's theatre, where Mayor Bancroft presided, and addresses were made by President Eliot, Judge Charles J. McIntire and Secretary Frank A. Hill of the state board of education. Last evening the anniversary oration was delivered by John Fiske in the presence of a large audience.

DEMANDS RECOGNITION.

Argument in the Appeal of ex-Lay Judge Kenny at Trenton.

Trenton, June 3.—Argument was begun yesterday before Justices Depew, Vansyckle and Gummere of the supreme court in the case of John Kenny, late lay judge of Hudson county, vs. Robert S. Hudspeth, law judge of the same county, who abolished the office of lay judge, refusing to recognize Mr. Kenny as a member of the bench. Kenny asks for a writ of mandamus to compel Judge Hudspeth to so recognize him, and furthermore brings the action to test the constitutionality of the act in question. Allen L. McDermott made the argument for the contestants and held that the law was unconstitutional, since the office of lay judge is named in the constitution and the governor is directed to appoint such judges. Frank Bergen and ex-Judge Beasley, the other lawyers in the case, will submit briefs in the course of a few days.

Concord, N. H., June 3.—In the supreme court yesterday afternoon counsel for Dr. J. C. Moore made a motion to have the case continued to the December law term, on the ground that they have been unable to attend to any other business than his matters for several weeks, but the attorney-general objected. The court took the motion under advisement.

GREEKS WANT CRETE

Nation, Government and Crown Prince Favor Annexation.

SUCH A GOOD CHANCE MAY NOT RECUR

The King Not Willing To Offend Russia, But He Cannot Long Resist the Will of the People, and He May Abdicate.

London, June 3.—The Vienna correspondent of the Daily News telegraphs that he learns from Athens that the Greek nation, the government and the crown prince all favor the annexation of the island of Crete by Greece. Such a favorable chance as the present is not likely to recur. The king, however, would do anything rather than offend Russia, but nevertheless he cannot long resist the will of the nation. His abdication is hinted at. The prime minister and the minister of foreign affairs were closeted with the king for hours yesterday. There are many indications that the recent inaction of the government will be abandoned. The Daily News has also a dispatch direct from Athens which gives further details of the critical situation in Crete. It says that Turks are pillaging and burning the villages in the vicinity of Rotimo. It is stated that seventy-five Turkish soldiers were killed and forty wounded during the recent fighting at Taavaro and Vamos.

More Troops for Crete.

Constantinople, June 3.—The gravity which the Turkish government attaches to the situation is shown by the fact that thirty-five battalions of troops have been ordered to the island of Crete. After the troops retired from Vamos the insurgents returned and burned the government buildings.

NEW YORK'S PRISON LABOR.

Believed the New Law Will Affect Honest Workmen More Than the Contract System.

Albany, June 3.—At the meeting of the state prison commission yesterday afternoon nothing was done in the matter of employing convicts in the manufacture of goods for the different state institutions, as provided for in the new law, for the reason that few of the institutions had sent in estimates of what they will require for the coming year. The members of the commission believe that the new law requiring state institutions to purchase prison-made goods will affect honest labor to an equal or greater degree than did the old prison contract labor system, because the goods manufactured by convicts can be produced as cheaply, if not cheaper, than those made by free men, and will sell at a correspondingly low figure.

NO CORRUPT ACT PROVEN.

Decision of Senate Committee at Boston in Insurance Bribery Charges.

Boston, June 3.—The senate committee on investigation of Senator Sanger's charges of attempted bribery in the matter of insurance legislation by an officer of the Massachusetts Benefit Life association, decided to report "not proven." The report, which was submitted yesterday afternoon, says: "While the facts in evidence justified, to some extent at least, the suspicion of Senator Sanger, and while the mention of a retainer to a senator under circumstances that could leave any suspicion of the suggestion of a retainer is to be condemned as having shown the possibility of a misunderstanding, yet the committee are of the opinion that no corrupt act was proven."

Trenton, June 3.—The supreme court has refused a writ of error in the case of lawyer David Spiro of Newark, who was convicted of the alleged larceny of ten cents from the coat pocket of a court constable. GOES TO THE HEIRS

Congregational Churches Lose the Stickney Bequest.

WERE TO HAVE RECEIVED $350,000

Decision of the Circuit Court at Baltimore Holds That the Clause Is in Conflict with the Law Against Perpetuities.

Baltimore, June 3.—By a decision handed down in the circuit court yesterday afternoon by Judge Dennis $350,000 which were willed to congregational churches of New England and Boston by the late Joseph Henry Stickney of this city will go to his heirs, who are residents of Chicago. Mr. Stickney's will disposed of about $1,000,000. Among the bequests was $10,000 for the removal of the canopy over Plymouth Rock to Coles' hill, to the memory of those who died the first winter after the landing of the Pilgrims, provided the Pilgrim society should deem it advisable. This clause was decided to be void on account of the conditions imposed. In the general residuary clause all the residue of the estate, amounting to $350,000, was left to the American Congregational union (now the Congregational church Building society) of New York and Boston; provided the legatees should release their claims on certain Baltimore Congregational churches. The court held that this clause was void, as not being an absolute gift, and as it came into conflict with the law against perpetuities. If Judge Dennis' opinion stands Mr. Stickney's heirs will be the richer by $350,000.

MRS. BARNES' DIVORCE.

The News from Oklahoma Revives Gossip in Society Circles in Trenton.

Trenton, June 3.—The dispatch from Oklahoma City announcing that a divorce had been granted to Mrs. Helen Edith Barnes from her husband, John A. Barnes, on the ground of extreme cruelty, has revived gossip in society circles in this city which begun when the Barnes-Magowan domestic affairs were first aired in this city. It is generally understood that Mrs. Barnes will soon wed ex-Mayor Magowan, who, it will be remembered also recently secured a divorce in Oklahoma from his wife. The petition filed by lawyers for Mrs. Barnes, in her application for divorce, said that on many occasions Barnes was guilty of striking his wife and choking her. Once on a railroad train in a fit of anger he threw the plaintiff from the seat to the floor of the car.

J. T. PRICE COMMITS SUICIDE.

Well Known Washington Livery Stable Man Who Kept Presidents' Horses.

Grant's Arabian steeds, and whose stables were also used in their time by Presidents Hayes and Arthur and Gen. Phil Sheridan, with all of whom he was well acquainted, shot himself fatally some time Monday night, through depression caused by ill health and financial difficulties. His body was not found until yesterday.

Bicycle Ordinances at Waterbury.

Waterbury, Conn., June 3.—The ordinance introduced at Monday night's meeting of the board of aldermen limiting the speed of bicycles within the city limits to eight miles an hour and requiring every wheel to be equipped with a bell, was followed by another ordinance which makes it a penal offense for a person to throw into the street any broken glass, pieces of crockery, tacks or other substances that are liable to puncture the pneumatic tires of bicycles or other vehicles. The measures will doubtless pass.

Ineligible for Excise Agent.

Albany, June 3.—The state civil service commission has decided that a person connected indirectly with the liquor traffic is ineligible for appointment as special excise agent. The matter came up on a question concerning the status of S. S. Danforth of St. Lawrence county, who has been declared ineligible to hold the position of special agent, he having been in the employ of his wife as manager of her hotel during the last year.

ELECTRICITY FOR NEW YORK "L"

Model Train Now Being Constructed by the Westinghouse Company.

Pittsburg, June 3.—The Westinghouse Electric company has practically completed the equipment of a model train of cars to be used on the Manhattan Elevated railroad in New York. The Tesla polyphase system of alternating currents will be used for the first time in railroad traction work. It is expected the adoption of this system will revolutionize the construction and operation of electric traction lines. The Westinghouse people are prepared to make a strong bid for that $8,000,000 Manhattan contract. George Westinghouse, jr., with the electrical experts at East Pittsburg, has been at work for some time to adapt the Tesla motors for use on traction roads. The preliminary tests so far made have proved the system a wonderful success for street work. Cars similar to those used by the Manhattan road are equipped with the Tesla alternating current motors, instead of the direct current motors, now exclusively used on all the traction roads of the country. It is thought the train will be prepared for a rigorous test. When ready the Manhattan officials will be invited to see the test.

CONDITION OF CROPS.

Weather Bureau's Weekly Bulletin for Eastern States.

Washington, June 3.—The weekly telegraphic crop reports of the weather bureau for eastern states is as follows: New England—Crops all greatly benefited by abundant rain; much replanting necessary, due to drought and insect pests. New York—Rains too late too save meadows; winter grains usually short and thin; nights too cool for corn. New Jersey—Heavy rain greatly improved all crop prospects, but considerable damage done in peach districts by high winds. Pennsylvania—Crops much improved by sufficient rain; wheat, rye and hay mostly short; corn, oats, potatoes and vegetables doing well; bugs and worms troublesome. Maryland—Abundant rains have caused marked improvement of crops; wheat excellent in east, fair in west and southern portions and poor elsewhere; grass short; corn, oats and tobacco in good condition; peaches promising in the east.

STETSON WILL CONTEST.

Formally Instituted at Boston by the Father of the Late Theatrical Manager.

Boston, June 3.—The contest of the will of the late John Stetson, jr., was formally instituted in the Suffolk probate court yesterday by John G. Stetson, the father of the deceased, to oppose the allowance of the will, which will be offered for probate to-morrow. The will gives the whole of the estate to Katherine Stokes Stetson, the widow of the deceased. She and John Stetson, sr., the father, constituted the only living relatives and next of kin of the deceased, according to the petition for the probate of the will filed by the executor. Mrs. Stetson, the widow, having since died, the contest will be between the testator's father and the wife's mother.

CLELELANDS' TIN WEDDING.

The Event Passed by the President and Wife Without Any Celebration.

Washington, June 3.—Yesterday was the tenth anniversary of the marriage of the President and Mrs. Cleveland. They did not celebrate the occasion and spent the day quietly, the president at the White House and Mrs. Cleveland at Woodley. In the afternoon Mrs. Cleveland came into town in her phaeton and drove back to the country with the president. Rev. Byron Sunderland, who performed the marriage ceremony for the president, remembered the occasion and called at the White House to pay his respects.

STILL SHORT $14,000

Chicago Gave the Democratic Committee Only $1,000 Yesterday.

NO FEARS FOR BALANCE, HOWEVER

Illinois National Guard Band To Furnish the Music—Contract for Decorations Not Yet Awarded — Seating Capacity To Be 15,000.

Chicago, June 3.—The democratic national sub-committee concluded the business of its present session last evening, and adjourned to meet at the Palmer house June 13. All the members have returned to their homes. The local committee is still short $14,000 of the guaranteed subscriptions, $35,000 of the promised $40,000 only having been paid to the national committe. Twenty-five thousand dollars was paid at the last meeting of the sub-committee, and $1,000 only was paid yesterday by the local treasurer, although the statement was given out that Chairman Donnersberger of the Chicago committee had in hand all the money due the national committee which had come to Chicago to get it. There is no fear, however, that the money will not be forthcoming from the guarantors, if not from the subscribers, and the committee was not pressed to make good the financial contract. The I. N. G. band of sixty pieces will be given the contract to furnish the music for the convention. The contract for the decorations was not decided upon. There will be 15,000 seats in the part of the Coliseum which is to be used for the convention. Only a few seats are to be put in the galleries, because the committee considers 15,000 a big enough audience to handle.

Rhode Island Republican Clubs.

Pawtucket, R. I., June 3.—The platform adopted by the convention of the state republican league of Rhode Island, held in this city yesterday afternoon, twenty-three oaganizations being reported, favored protection, the use of both gold and silver as money, giving silver the fullest use in currency consistent with maintaining its value on an exact parity with gold; and a foreign policy that will maintain the honor of the American people abroad as well as at home and give sympathy, encouragement and hope to the men who are fighting for freedom in other lands. Hon. Henry E. Tiepke of Pawtucket was elected president.

Maine Republican Convention.

Bangor, Me., June 3.—The Maine republican convention yesterday afternoon nominated Hon. Llewellyn Powers of Houlton for governor by acclamation, and adopted a platform favoring protection, reciprocity and the present gold standard and opposing the free coinage of silver except under international agreement. Measures for the restriction of immigration are favored, and the Maine delegation in congress are congratulated for their efforts in behalf of American shipping. Unswering loyalty to Thomas B. Reed is renewed in the hope that the convention may recognize the urgent demand of the business interests of the country for his nomination for president.

Grant for Second Place?

New York, June 3.—The latest gossip concerning the second place on the McKinley ticket is that police commissioner Fred Grant is being pushed by a social and financial clique, headed by his sister-in-law, Mrs. Palmer of Chicago. Mrs. Palmer, it is said, is to establish headquarters in St. Louis next week to promote Col. Fred's candidacy and if he is defeated it will not be because of lack of energy on her part.

Republican Victory in Oregon.

Portland, Ore., June 3.—Almost complete returns have been received from the election held in this state Monday to select a supreme judge, two congressmen and members of the legislature, which will choose a successor to Senator Mitchell in the United States senate. The republicans have elected R. S. Bean, supreme court judge, by 10,000 plurality. Thomas H. Tongue, rep., has been elected to congress from the first district. In the second district Ellis, rep., was also elected. The senate will be republican by about ten majority and the house will probably be close, though the republicans claim a majority of at least ten, giving them twenty on joint ballot. Ex-Gov. Pennoyer was elected mayor of Portland by a plurality exceeding 2,000. The populists have made gains throughout the state.

Kentucky Democrats Fight Over Silver.

Lexington, Ky., June 3.—The democratic state convention which convenes here to-day promises to be unusually exciting, the main fight being over silver. If the silver men succeed in their attempt to throw out enough sound money delegates from Louisville to make the Fifth congressional district for free silver the free silverites would control every congressional district in the state. A large number of delegates and prominent democrats from all over the state are present, and conferences looking to the perfecting of the organization were held far into last night.

BARON HIRSCH'S FUND.

Work That Is Done with the Dead Philanthropist's Gift to America.

The Baron de Hirsch fund in the United States was started in March, 1890, when the philanthropist gave $2,500,000 in cash to a board of trustees, seven of whom reside in New York and two in Philadelphia, for the purpose of educating and Americanizing Russian and Roumanian immigrant Jews to enable them to become self-supporting.

Immediately upon arrival the children of the immigrants are taught English in 12 large classrooms in the Educational Alliance building by graduates of the Normal college, who prepare them to enter the primary grades of the public schools. There are now 750 children in these day classes. A matron is in charge of the lavatory, who sees to it that the children are clean. There are also ten evening English classes, composed of 500 workingmen and women, most of whom come to the classes direct from their workshops.

The fund has also established a mechanical training school in the building erected especially for the purpose and containing all the modern machinery and appliances—where are taught carpentry, house, sign and fresco painting and working in iron, sufficient to enable graduates to become helpers in their respective vocations, and in most cases good positions are obtained immediately upon leaving school. The term is six months, and each graduate is given the tools of his trade.

The United Hebrew charities are the almoners of a portion of the fund set apart for immediate relief and the transportation of immigrants to the interior, where places have been previously found for them by the free employment bureau, which also obtains situations for those who remain in the city. An agent is located on Ellis Island for the purpose of looking after the interests of and giving instructions to immigrants who come under the jurisdiction of the fund.

As education in cleanliness is considered of primary importance, public baths were established by the fund in 1891. There are 26 rain baths, besides tubs, in separate compartments, and attached to each is a dressing-room. The charge is 5 cents for adults and 3 cents for children. From 500 to 750 baths are given per day.

In 1891 the fund purchased 5,100 acres of land in Woodbine, Cape May county, N. J., on the West and South Jersey railroads, 51 miles from Philadelphia and 25 miles from Cape May. The land was originally covered with timber and brush, and there have been cleared 1,600 acres, and divided into 65 farm plots of 30 acres each, and 2,300 town lots. Upon each farm there have been erected a comfortable residence, barn and outhouses, and the houses in the town are particularly inviting. There are 17 miles of streets and roads.

Woodbine has four large factories, wherein clothing, pocketbooks, baskets and a variety of iron work and machinery are made. The hands employed are mainly the young men and women residents of the place. A large electric plant supplies the factories, hotel and streets with an abundance of light. A brick yard is making the best of hard red brick. There is also a kindling-wood factory.

Eleven stores and other private enterprises are located at Woodbine.

The finest schoolhouse in the county has been built by the fund, and another one is being erected by the board of education of the county at a cost of $2,000. There are three English day classes, a kindergarten and a manual training class; also an English evening school. The teachers in charge are appointed by the board of education.

A special building, hothouses and nurseries have been erected for the agricultural school, wherein students are being educated with great success for the state agricultural college, and two are now receiving instructions there, it being the intent to graduate competent teachers of agriculture. A brick synagogue is in course of erection and will seat about 400 persons. The lower part is to be used for a Hebrew school and for other communal purposes.

The farming population of Woodbine is 550 and the town residents number 200.

The agricultural bureau of information of the fund is located at No. 378 Grand street, this city, where immigrants who desire to become farmers are advised upon the whole subject. There are also branches in Philadelphia, Boston, Chicago, Detroit and Minneapolis.—N. Y. Journal.

The Object of His Curiosity.

"It beats me," he said, as he laid down his newspaper, thoughtfully. "I dunno's I ever thought of it afore, but now thet it does come ter my mind, it certainly beats me."

"What air ye talkin' about?" asked his wife, anxiously.

"Literatoor," he answered. "Course we've seen it showed up in the newspapers time an' ag'in how all an editor does is ter set down with a pot o' paste an' a pair o' scissors an' cut out things ter put inter 'is paper."

"Certainly. I don't see nothin' so beatin' about that."

TO CURE DYSPEPSIA.

A New Remedy Which Will Do It.

Chronic Dyspepsia is considered by many people to be nearly if not quite incurable. No good reason can be given why they think so except that perhaps they have tried various remedies without much, if any benefit.

But the progress in every branch of medicine has been such that amongother things a lasting cure for indigestion in its chronic form as well as temporary has been discovered and is now placed before the public strictly on its merits as a permanent cure for all stomach troubles or difficulties with the digestive organs.

This new treatment is called Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, being put up in tablet form so as to be easily taken and also to preserve its good qualities for an indefinite length of time.

This remedy has produced surprising effects in the worst forms of indigestion, and in many cases where ordinary remedies failed to give even relief, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have fully cured.

The splendid results from using this preparation are owing to the fact that it is prepared and intended for Dyspepsia and stomach troubles only.

It is not a cure-all like so many advertised remedies, claiming to cure everything under the sun, but it is claimed it is a certain cure for Dyspepsia, and anyone suffering from any form of indigestion cannot fail to get permanent relief and cure from its use.

It is so prepared and the ingredients are of such a nature that when the tablets are taken into the stomach they digest the food no matter whether the stomach is in good working order or not.

You get sustenance and strength to mind and body by reason of the food being properly digested, and at the same time the much abused stomach is allowed to rest and recuperate.

Notwithstanding the great benefits to be derived, this preparation is very reasonable in price, costing but fifty cents per package at druggists. Send to Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich., for little book on stomach diseases, or ask your druggist for it.

SOME NOTABLE SPENDTHRIFTS.

Abingdon Baird, Ernest Benson and the Marquis of Aylesbury.

We have heard a very great deal about misers and their thriftiness, and it may not be uninteresting to hear something interesting concerning the great "plungers" and their spendthriftiness.

The late Mr. Abingdon Baird was one of the greatest spendthrifts of modern times, and his attempts to dissipate his fortune, which amounted to over £250,000 a year, were many, and displayed an inventive genius which should have made his fortune in another capacity. He cast his money about right and left, and it is probable that had he lived a few years longer he would have gained what appeared to be the premier object in life—legitimate right to poor-rate relief. He thought nothing of making a present worth £15,000 or £20,000, and he paid £17,000 a day for a necklace of jewels which he presented to a lady of his acquaintance.

One of his many methods of making money fly was opening expensive wines and champagnes, extracting a small wineglassful, and pouring the remainder of the liquor away. One day he was impressed with the idea that his money was not going nearly fast enough to please him, and the brilliant notion of financing a theater commended itself to him. So he took a West Side theater and ran it for about eight weeks, with the result—highly satisfactory to himself, no doubt—that £5,600 had flitted away. Another day he took it into his head to drop a ring, worth approximately £250, into the Thames from Waterloo bridge. Yet another day he paid £34,000 for a magnificent yacht, which he made a present to a friend, for generosity was one of his biggest and best qualities.

He was a firm friend to "the noble art of self-defense," and many a smart "spar" took place at his house at Mayfair. He reckoned that his boxing acquaintances cost him £1,500 to £2,000 a week to entertain. He died at the early age of 32, a disappointed man, for he had not quite ruined himself.

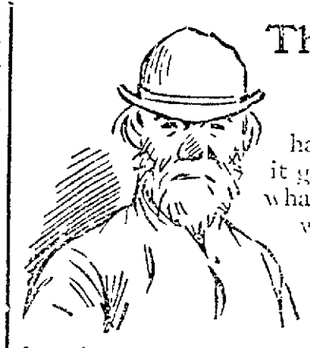
Mr. Ernest Benson, notorious as "The Jubilee Plunger," was more successful than the last named gentleman, since he managed to ruin himself absolutely, running through a fortune of £250,000 in the record time of two years. Though quite young, he displayed remarkable talent for extravagance. Cards and horses were firm friends to him—the kind of friends he would wish to be defended from. He sat down to cards one evening, and lost at the rate of £1,000 a minute for ten consecutive minutes. Another game of cards, played with some boon companions, with whom he was down at Goodwood for the races, cost this rash young man not less than £30,000; losses of such sums as £5,000 and £6,000 were deemed the merest bagatelle by him.

He had a brilliant day at another race meeting, losing £15,000 in the day over the races, and £12,000 further in the evening at cards. He bought a black pearl pin for £700 one morning, and, as his taste for such things had changed meanwhile, gave it away in the afternoon. Now he regrets that he was born so lavish.

The late marquis of Aylesbury was quite as successful a plunger as "Jubilee Plunger," for he ran through his fortune, which brought him in some £60,000 per annum, in seven years, and at the end of that time found himself living upon the charity of a gentleman who had been his own agent.—London Tit-Bits.

Early Uses of Glass.

It is very uncertain when glass was first employed for the transmission of light and other optical purposes, or how long any of the natives of Europe have enjoyed the benefit of glass windows. Parkes says the best building in Herculaneum had windows made with a sort of transparent talc.



These stopped using soap, long ago.

This one stopped because—well, we'll have to guess why. Perhaps, because it gave him too much work to do. That's what everybody thinks, for that matter, when there's nothing but soap at hand, and there's a good deal of dirt to be removed from anything.

But this one stopped because she had found something better than soap—Pearline. Something easier, quicker, simpler, more economical. No rubbing to speak of, no wear—easy work and money saved, whether it's washing clothes, cleaning house, or any kind of washing and cleaning. 402

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge, that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are then not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

WOULD NOT CUT HIS HAIR.

Marshal Canrobert Refused to Obey the Army Regulations.

It was a singular fact that the late Marshal Conrobert, the last of the French marshals, offered in himself a constant example of the violations of the regulations of the army in which he was so conspicuous an officer. Throughout almost the whole of his military service Canrobert wore long hair flowing down his shoulders, and this hair was a sort of oriflamme to the soldiers. But ever since the year 1833 the French army regulations have positively required that every officer and soldier shall wear closely cut hair, "without any tufts, curls or ringlets whatsoever," and severe penalties are provided for persistence in letting the hair grow long.

Canrobert had a profuse mass of hair which he was very proud of. It was cropped to his great grief when he went into the military school of St. Cry in 1826, but when, as a young officer, he went into the Algerian war in 1835 he profited by the relaxation of many regulations there to let his hair grow down his shoulders again. Several years later, also, in Algeria Col. Canrobert, bareheaded, led a heroic charge at Zaatcha and his long floating hair, in the thick of the combat, served as a rallying sign to the zouaves as they swarmed through the breach. After this war Canrobert's head of hair had already become so famous that no superior ventured to command him to cut it off, though Gen. Pelissier, who hated him, once called him "professor" in a cafe in Paris, and by way of excuse affected to have mistaken him for a doctor of philosophy on account of his hair.

The emperor Napoleon III. did once venture to remonstrate with Canrobert for wearing long hair. The marshal's response was very "Frenchy."

"Sire," he said, "my hair belongs to history!"

He did not cut it off. It floated all through the French and German war, becoming legendary among the soldiers. Long since it became snow white and fell upon the old marshal's shoulders in his declining days, and it clustered about them as his body lately lay in state in Paris.—London Tit-Bits.

When Jean Baptiste goes on his travels he takes a ticket, with a check for his baggage, and enters a train. (He used to go to the station in a gig, according to M. de Gaspe, but I never heard him use the word, though I know he patronizes the cab-stand rather than the "place de fiacres.") "All aboard!" shouts the French guard. "All right," says the French passenger. I remember one day, going down from Montreal to Quebec, hearing the guard ask a worthy habitant for his "billet:" "Eh?" said he, puzzled. "Votre tiquette," explained the guard. "Oh, Je comprends. Le voici." I have even encountered a sentence like this: "Nous leur donnerons des free ticket." Jean Baptiste will also tell you, if you desire such information, that the train consists of "douze chars et un engin," instead of "douze wagons et un locomotive;" but he still finds time to call the railway itself a "ch'min d'fer," having cut down the syllables from four to two.—Contemporary Review.

EGYPT'S NEW ARMY.

Prejudice Against Military Service Is Being Rapidly Overcome.

In one sense the Egyptian army is being tried in the field for the first time. True, it has already its record of victory. The men who are now concentrating on the upper Nile are a different army from the wretched slave soldiers who broke at El Teb in Baker's disastrous fight, and who followed Hicks to destruction in Kordofan. These were the days when recruits were dragged in chains to the quay or the railway station, the days when parents destroyed their children's sight or crippled a hand or limb that they might escape impressment into the army. Now—a new sign of the times—the reservists are coming in without any difficulty, even though they are ordered for service in the once dreaded Soudan. The army is now regarded as an honorable career, and the general feeling is that the Egyptian regiments, if called upon to face a mahdist force on the upper Nile, will behave as well as they did when they attacked and put to flight Nejumi's fanatic followers at Toski or broke with steady volleys the Harendowa charge at Afafit, a charge delivered suddenly at close quarters out of a thick bush not 200 yards away. But in this sense the campaign is a new experience—that for the first time since Khartoum fell an Egyptian army is not merely holding back the mahdist invasion, but acting on the offensive and boldly pushing southward the outposts of the khalifa's ill-compacted empire. This will be a higher test of the military organization built up by British officers than any mere guarding of a frontier line. That the test will show how well our soldier countrymen have done their work, I have not a moment's doubt.

There are two elements in the new Egyptian army. The Soudanese battalions have already made themselves a reputation which rather eclipses that of their comrades of the Egyptian, or fellaheen, regiments. The Soudanese are keen for a fight; if anything, difficult to hold in, so eager are they to blaze away their cartridges or break into a premature dash at the enemy with a bayonet. But the fellaheen under good leaders though not loving fighting for its own sake, are soldiers of a very serviceable type. Obedient, made for disciplined action, trusting their chiefs and waiting for their word, and then acting without hesitation, they are men who under bad leaders might break and give way, but under good officers are more than a match for half-savage enemies. I have heard it said that though they are good behind ramparts they have not yet been tested in the open; but it was a fellaheen battalion (the First Egyptian) whose bayonets turned the scale in one of the fiercest moments of the fight at Toski. I hear on good authority that the khedive is specially anxious that the Egyptian battalions should have the opportunity in this campaign of showing that they can do their duty as soldiers as well as their darker-faced comrades of the Soudanese battalions —London News.

IDEAS FOR STOUT WOMEN.

Lose Flesh by Dieting and Wearing Certain Garments.

Some one has said of matrimony that "it is a sort of cage which all who are out desire to get in and all who are in desire to get out." This sentence may be applied to stoutness, for all thin people want to be stout, at least moderately stout, while all stout people ardently wish to be thin.

It must be confessed, however, that the thin people are by no means as eager for a change as their fat friends, who loudly groan and complain under their burden. Undue embonpoint ages a woman. At 25, if she weighs 14 or 16 stone, she looks to be over 40. Her step is heavy, she can no longer dance or walk or exercise with pleasure. Her clothes wear out more quickly and she is more difficult to dress to advantage. All this she feels and murmurs at despite the smoothness of her unwrinkled countenance and despite the fact that it is far easier for the stout to get thin than for the naturally thin to get stout.

All sweets and farinaceous foods must be avoided by the stout woman if she wishes to grow thin and the daintiest and lightest dishes indulged in.

I know it is a very trying ordeal to be present at a good dinner and allow the most tempting and appetizing plates to pass untasted, but think of it—it is still worse to grow positively fat, isn't it?

A stout woman must dine on a mutton cutlet and slice of dried toast, a little soup and drink claret and water, for whatever her searchings of heart, whatever her leanings, she must force herself to recognize that plain food taken sparingly and exercise will reduce weight. Self-restraint must be her motto and if she casts it aside she does it at her peril.

The ambition of the stout woman must be to have her size attract as little attention as possible, and if she wears dull stuffs the eye, so to say, glances off and is not fixed by any unusual brilliancy. Stripes are advantages for the skirt, but not so much so for the bodice. Broadly speaking, however, all pekine materials worn in their length are becoming.

The bodice should be cut all in very sloping V's, with downward points. If she consults her interests she will be careful to have the underarm seam long, and to do this will, if necessary, have to bring it more to the front of the armhole than is usual. The basque must be cut away on the hips and the sleeves droop slightly, as is the mode. For street wear short mantles will be found best; jackets are rarely suitable, but if adopted should be of the reefer shape.

In dressing her hair a woman must always avoid ugly "corners" at her temples, by so arranging the fringe as to cover these bare spots prettily. If she has wide cheeks she must by no means adopt a narrow coiffure, as this will give her face the shape of a pear, smallest at the forehead and broadening out like that of Louis Phillipe.

Mrs. Russell Hovey, one of the greatest authorities on matters of dress, once said: "Fat is only an injury to beauty when it spoils the shape. It keeps the skin smooth and unwrinkled and so is often a benefit to women when it comes to advancing years. What we have to do is to make size expressive. We must have long lines to enhance the height and heavy fabrics to obscure by their folds unsightly protuberances. The fat woman who in a tailor-made gown shows off every inch of her bulk is a deplorable spectacle. She might, with proper dressing, look big and grand, soft and lovely, so as to make little women and men look mean and commonplace beside her. The great secret for anyone who is over-stout, therefore, is not to show her outlines.

"For those who regard the corset an absolute necessity let me whisper in their ears this little piece of advice: Never fasten it by a single lace, but by three, after the French fashion. Of these the first should come from the shoulder to within an inch or two of the waist. The second should begin about an inch or so below the waist and continue to the end of the corset. Both these should be firmly fastened off and should not vary in size at any time, being left very open, so as to allow the figure and especially the chest full liberty to expand. The third, the only one to be tightened or loosened at will, comes in the middle from a little above to a little below the waist, and left quite loose in the morning may be gradually drawn in if it be necessary to put on a close-sitting gown."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 3, 1896.

DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION.

May 15th, 1896.

The Democratic Electors of the several Assembly Districts of the State of New York are requested to send three delegates from each of the said districts to attend a State Convention, to be held at Saratoga, on the 24th day of June, 1896, at 12 m., for the purpose of selecting the number of delegates to which the State of New York is entitled in the National Democratic Convention, to be held at Chicago, on the 7th day of July next.

J. W. KINKLEY, Chairman.
JOHN CUNNEEN, Secretary.

Senator Hill has not a reputation for piety, but when he exclaimed, yesterday, after the passage of the anti-bond issue bill, "God save the country," his informal prayer was as earnest and sincere a petition as ever went up to the throne of heavenly grace.

"A grand Altgeld tour" is being planned by Illinois' anarchist Governor during the national campaign. The Western, Southern and Northwestern States have been selected as those in which he can rant at will without fear of rotten eggs and tar and feathers.

Hanna, whose policy is to punish all Republicans who are not for McKinley, is said to be planning to remove the national headquarters from New York to Chicago, the reason assigned being that New York's political leaders cannot be trusted. Hanna may find before the campaign is over that there is such a thing as a politician being too smart.

Speaker Reed's nimble wit was never shown to better advantage than in the annihilation of a bombastic Representative who in a wrangle with the Speaker quoted Henry Clay's "I would rather be right than President." Reed's retort came instantly: "Don't give yourself the slightest uneasiness: you'll never be either."

A few weeks ago it seemed as if the Republican nomination for Governor must go to the candidate whom Platt favored, and only out and out Platt men were mentioned in connection with the nomination. Now, anti-Platt candidates are multiplying at a rate that shows they think they have more than a fighting chance. Sorry days are ahead for the Platt machine, which is already creaking and groaning, and has slipped many a cog and lost many a pinion.

Senator Butler's bill to prohibit the issue of interest bearing bonds, and thus make it impossible for the Secretary of the Treasury to obtain gold with which to redeem the obligations of the government, passed the Senate, yesterday, by the votes of five Populists, ten so-called Republicans and seventeen so-called Democrats. All the Senators who voted for the bill represent far Western and Southern States, and this, taken in connection with the hold that free silver has on those States, makes it plain that the financial question has become a sectional one, the Eastern, Middle and Central Western States alone standing for honest money.

It is worth noting that Congressmen, who have been loudest in their denunciation of the issue of bonds, all voted to pass the River and Harbor grab over the President's veto. The President had reminded the critics of the administration that the River and Harbor bill created obligations to the amount of $62,000,000 no less binding than bonds for that sum, but this reminder counted for nothing. To the mind of the average Republican Congressman to use the nation's credit to preserve national good faith and honor is reprehensible, while to strain the nation's credit for works of doubtful necessity, but which may help him in his "deestrick" is most commendable.

In what an amazing political predicament the country finds itself! Open war in a number of states by allied Democrats, Republicans, Populists and Anarchists against the public honor and credit through repudiation of its pledge to redeem its obligations in as good dollars as it had received. This is bad enough, the Lord knows, but this is not all, for it is a the foregone conclusion that a man is to be put in nomination for the Presidency, at St. Louis, whose record leaves it an open question as to whether he best loves a dollar, worth a hundred cents anywhere in the world, or one which might pass current with the unsuspecting coolies of Canton or Shanghai, but would be contemptously thrown out in every civilized country on the earth.

Firemen Getting Square With Newburgh's Electric Railroad.

That

Extreme tired feeling afflicts nearly everybody at this season. The hustlers cease to push, the tireless grow weary, the energetic become enervated. You know just what we mean. Some men and women endeavor temporarily to overcome that

Tired

Feeling by great force of will. But this is unsafe, as it pulls powerfully upon the nervous system, which will not long stand such strain. Too many people "work on their nerves," and the result is seen in unfortunate wrecks marked "nervous prostration," in every direction. That tired

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.

Proceedings of Tuesday Evening's and This Morning's Sessions.

The attendance at the Baptist Sunday School convention, last evening, was large, the schools in the association being all represented and many Middletowners being present.

The addresses of Rev. J. M. Hutchinson to the Baptist Young People's Union on the subject: "What? Why? and How?" and of Rev. A. C. Dixon on the subject: "The Holy Spirit for Service," were both most admirable discourses and were listened to with deep attention.

This morning, there was a sunrise meeting at 6:30, devotional services conducted by Rev. E. T. Sanford at 9:15, an address by Rev. E. E. Chivers on the relation of Sunday Schools to mission work and brief addresses by Edward Hopkins, W. H. Kniffin, Jr., and Rev. E. A. Tuck, and a most interesting address by Rev. C. R. Storey on "The call of the Teacher."

This afternoon, the Young People's Union has charge and an interesting programme has been provided.

VERY BOLD BURGLARS.

They Burst Open the Door of Theodore Franck's Hotel, but are Frightened Away.

While the fire was in progress on Richmond Hill, this morning, two men forced in the front door of Theo. Franck's hotel near the East Main street depot. They chose a time when a freight train was passing, and did not arouse Mr. Frank or any one else in the house.

The thieves prepared a quantity of liquors for removal, and placed them by the door; but it is believed they were frightened away by the firemen returning from the fire, as nothing has been missed.

It is said that a man saw the men burst in the door, and it so it ought to have been an easy matter to have got the police and had the thieves arrested.

THAT'S THE WAY TO DO IT.

An Outside View of Middletown's Appreciation of Its Firemen.

From the Newburgh Register.

Middletown taxpayers appreciate the services of their firemen, far more seemingly than do some heartless corporations in other places. The Middletown firemen said if the taxpayers would vote them $1,400 towards defraying the expenses of a parade and tournament, this fall, they would undertake the job of working it up. A special election was held, and the Middletown boys may now go ahead and arrange details, for out of 219 votes cast but 24 were opposed. Peekskill, Kingston, Middletown and all the other Hudson River departments are clearing the decks so as not to be in the way of the big State parade at Newburgh next year.

AN INCENDIARY FIRE.

An Unfinished House on Richmond Hill Tract Burned, This Morning.

The house of Julius D. Cheney, on Conklin avenue, Richmond Hill, was destroyed by fire at 2:30, this morning. An alarm was sent in from box 36, but as there was no water in that section of the city, the firemen could do nothing.

The building had not yet been completed. The fire started in the attic and was undoubtedly the work of an incendiary.

Harris—Holbert.

The wedding of Miss Elizabeth Holbert and Mr. George Brodhead Harris took place, yesterday, in Christ Church, Warwick. Miss Holbert is the youngest daughter of Mr. Albert Holbert, of Warwick. Mr. Harris is the eldest son of Joseph S. Harris, of Philadelphia, who is well known in the railway world, and President and receiver of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Charles A. Tibbals, rector. The bride wore a dress of heavy white satin with tulle veil, and carried roses. Miss Emma Sanford, of Warwick, was maid of honor, Miss Marion Harris, sister of the groom, and Miss Anna Elsie White, of Warwick, were bridesmaids. They wore figured organdie over yellow pink, and nile green respectively, and carried roses. The bride gave her bridesmaids dainty rings.

The best man was the groom's brother, Mr. Clinton Harris. The ushers were Mr. A. M. Reynolds, Jr., of Newark, N. J.; Mr. Henry I. Brown and Mr. William K. Barclay, both of Philadelphia, and Mr. Livingston Rutherford, of Warwick. The groom presented his ushers with gold studs.

After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the residence of E. M. Reynolds, brother-in-law of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Harris will live at Reading, Pa., where Mr. Harris occupies an important position in the Reading Coal and Iron Company.

Pooler—Paddock.

Pooler, who for several years lived in Goshen, were married, yesterday at noon, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Franklin A. Paddock, of 17 West Tenth street, New York. The ceremony was performed by Archbishop Corrigan, assisted by two priests.

There were no bridesmaids. Miss Mabel Choate, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Choate, was the maid of honor. She was dressed in pink and white, and wore a white hat trimmed with black feathers. Her bouquet was of sweet peas.

The bride, who is a niece of the Baroness de Trobriand, was given away by her brother, Gordon Paddock. She looked beautiful in a white satin gown, trimmed with very old point lace. Her veil was of point lace, and she caried a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

The parlors of the house were decorated with palms and pink roses, and in a bower of these at the head of the room the ceremony took place.

After the ceremony there was a wedding breakfast in the dining room, which was trimmed with palms and red roses. The bride and bridegroom departed amid showers of rice for a brief western tour. They will sail on the steamship La Touraine for Europe, June 13th.

CHANGE THE FACE AT WILL.

New Science Which Teaches the Art of Controlling Facial Expression.

The art of counterfeiting facial expression is as old as the face itself, but it remained for a modern French scientist to discover how permanent results may be obtained and to place the art upon a scientific basis. As explained by the new science, there are, in addition to the bone and framework, three chief anatomical factors in the facial expression. These are the skin, the cushion of fat which contains the numerous blood vessels and the facial muscles. The nerve supply receives impulses from the fifth cranium nerve. The blood vessels are under the control of the sympathetic system and the muscles which have to do with the expression of the face receive impulses from the brain. The numerous muscular tissues of the face are, of course, controlled by telegraphic nerve fibers, and the connection between the muscles of expression and the emotional centers in the brain is a very close one. The expression of the face is always more or less independent of the will, and this accounts for the fact that so few men are able to lie successfully without betraying themselves.

"Static physiognomy," which is the name given to the new science, treats of the theory of habitual expression when the countenance is at rest. In short, this science is based upon the theory that every emotion, however slight, sends a distinct impulse to the proper muscles of the face at all times. This means, of course, that even the most minute sensation has its direct influence upon the appearance of the face. The expression and even the general arrangement of features accommodate themselves to the influence of these millions of telegraphic nerve dispatches.

It will be seen, therefore, that facial expression may be readily acquired by merely sending a sufficient number of these little nerve telegrams to the muscles of the face. Ordinarily these dispatches are being constantly and unconsciously sent to govern the important muscles. If, however, one will systematically originate these curious little demands and will carry on this exercise regularly and intelligently the face will gradually assume a fixed expression, which in time becomes quite mechanical. In other words, the muscles of the face which determine one's expression may be developed by proper exercise as certainly as the muscles of the legs or arms.

The new science goes a step further and prescribes just what lessons must be conned in order to produce a particular type of face. There is nothing mysterious or unscientific in this. Physiognomists long ago discovered that any long continued dominant emotion on the face or set of experiences produces a characteristic expression. The most familiar example of this is the fact that men of the same vocation in life have similar expressions. This is true of nearly all trades and professions. Physiognomists are, for example, able at once to recognize what is known as the "cobbler's visage." There is a sailor's visage, a clergyman's face, and everybody is able to recognize the curious cast of countenance of a groom.

In analyzing these typical faces or expressions, it is discovered that each has some very characteristic feature, which may be readily accounted for. The clerical face is characterized by a certain indication of authority, of the thin-lipped kind, and a dignified sense of the sanctity of his office. Physicians have what is known as the doctor's jaw and mouth. The doctor's eye is at once vigilant and sympathetic, while the general expression of his face suggests a fund of untapped wisdom. The typical lawyer's countenance is confident, with a pouncing alertness of the eye. The sea captain expresses authority and power in the eye and the easily set mouth. The horseman's face, on the other hand, shows command in the mouth, and the soldier's in the mouth and the eye. These various types, which are so readily recognized, it may therefore be seen, are the direct outcome of certain emotions and experiences which are characteristic of various occupations.

In order to acquire a particular type of facial expression, it is necessary to understand just what are the emotions and impulses experienced by the man whose face is to be imitated. In order to produce a complete transformation of a man's facial expression, it is necessary to carry on these curious exercises for a period covering several years. Anyone having even a slight knowledge of physiognomy can devise these muscular exercises. It is necessary, the disciples of the new science teach, to find out first of all what are the commonest emotions and impulses in the type of man or woman to be imitated. When this has been clearly settled, it remains to subject oneself to these impressions. A familiar example would be that of a man having a weak, insipid face, who wished to cultivate the determined facial expression of the soldier. To accomplish this, it is necessary, as far as possible, to view the affairs of everyday life from a soldier's point of view. The firm-set jaw, indicative of courage and authority, could be gradually developed. It would necessitate more care and perseverance for a man with hard, sharp features, say those of the gambler or jockey, to assume the expression of a divine, although this, according to the new science, is a physical, not a mental possibility.—N. Y. Recorder.

Real Taffy on a Stick.

"Courting sticks" were in use in New England about one hundred years ago. They were long wooden tubes, through which the lovers could whisper to each other when the presence of other persons interfered with the secret exchange of endearing expressions.—Chicago Tribune.

"DR. MILES,

Through His Nervine Is a Benefactor to Thousands."

A WIDELY known Wisconsin publisher, who resides at Green Bay, writes March 6th, 1895, as follows:

"Five years ago I became so nervous that mental work was a burden. I could not rest at night on account of sleeplessness. My attention was called to Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, and I commenced to use it with the very best effect. Since then I have kept a bottle in my house and use it whenever my nerves become unstrung, with always the same good results. My son also takes it for nervousness with like never failing success. I have recommended it to many and it cures them. All who suffer from nerve troubles should try it. It is free from narcotics, perfectly harmless, and yet soothes and strengthens. FLORENCE NIGHTINGALE.

She Is Still the Most Popular Woman in the United Kingdom.

Florence Nightingale, the famous Crimean nurse, was congratulated the other day by her many friends, including the queen, on having reached her 76th birthday. Florence Nightingale, although she has lived an absolutely retired life during the past 20 or 30 years, is still perhaps the most popular woman in England. No one has ever taken her place in the hearts of the British people. She had already received a very thorough training as a nurse, and had managed with admirable wisdom a small sanitarium in London, started and financed by herself, when the year 1854 saw the outbreak of the Crimean war. Lord Herbert, the secretary of war, and an old friend of the Nightingale family, wrote and asked his young friend if she would consent to take charge of the band of trained nurses who were being sent out to Scutari by the Patriotic fund. Curiously enough, his missive crossed a letter in which Miss Nightingale offered to go; so only waiting an order to procure absolute necessaries, she and her band of 37 devoted helpers started on their way. At that time she was described as being "a tall and graceful-looking woman, with small, well-shaped head, soft, sympathetic brown eyes, and with a firm, courageous expression of countenance." She had enormous influence both with the men and at headquarters, and her energy and intelligence saved thousands and thousands of lives. The strain and terrible effort undergone by her during the two years that she remained in the east told upon her health, and she has been more or less of a confirmed invalid ever since. Still from her sick-room she labored on unceasingly, and it is undoubtedly due to her that the present English system of trained nurses was established. The £50,000 which the nation subscribed to her in gratitude for her great services was entirely devoted by her to the formation of an institution for the training and employment of nurses, and she has always taken the most vivid interest in all that concerns her beloved profession. Whenever a new sanitary army reform is contemplated her advice is always asked by the authorities at the war office, and great deference is paid to her judgment.

It's a busy place and backs are used.
There's many a cripple to-day for life.
Ever notice how many people over forty complain?
Seven out of ten say colds affect their kidneys.
The kidneys are the cause not the colds.
Keep them in shape and life is life.
You can do it easily and pleasantly.
No nauseating disturbance.
No effect except on the kidneys.
But that effect is quick and permanent.
Doan's Kidney Pills do perfect work.
Middletown is full of their praises.
Read this statement and you will be forced to confess that our city is alive to the good of its people. Mr. C. H. Coleman proprietor of the Columbus Hotel has a worthy helpmate in his better half and the couple have pushed the "Columbus" in a very short time to the front rank of its class. The genial and business like hostess says: "Kidney disease runs in our family. I have been troubled for the past six years myself but the greater quantity of Doan's Kidney Pills I bought at J. E. Mills' drug store were for my mother and one of my brothers. Backache so severe I could not stand it; too stubborn to be affected by plasters; home remedies or physicians' prescriptions clung to me most of the time. I have let my bed late at night and gone to a doctors begging for relief. I could not wait until he was sent for. Urinary trouble set in. The deposit alarmed me. My general health was impaired and I considered myself lucky in being induced to try Doan's Kidney Pills. It was only a few days when I got relief and in six or seven more my trouble had disappeared. When they cured me so promptly I immediately sent some to my mother who lives at Glenwild, Sullivan Co. Her farm of 365 acres adjoins the Sullivan Co. Club House. The first box I sent did her so much good that she made me send her some more. I have sent some to my sister who has the same symptoms as I had at present I cannot speak positively about her or my brother. I can about Doan's Kidney Pills. No words of mine can exceed my opinion. They are easy to take, leave no disagreeable after effect and go right for the kidneys."

Doan's Kidney Pills are sold for 50 cents per box or 6 boxes for $2.50. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Sent by mail on receipt of price. For sale by all dealers.

DANIELS & MOULE,

Eye Specialists,

have leased permanently the three front rooms in the Wilcox Building, 57 North street, Middletown, N. Y., which have been elegantly fitted up exclusively as OPTICAL PARLORS, which are now open to the public. With 25 years of experience we feel justified in saying that we will meet the views of the intelligent citizens of Middletown and vicinity. The eye is a delicate organ, and imperfectly fitted will do injury that never can be repaired. Don't spend your money where you have to pay for calls or patronize those who are here to-day and elsewhere to-morrow. Patients need attention after being fitted—which we always get free. If your eyes trouble you or have headaches, come and have them examined. Headache, nervousness, dizziness are nearly in every case caused by defect of vision and can be cured by properly adjusted glasses. Our specialty. Visual Imperfection. All operations in all stages successfully treated. Everything warranted or no money accepted. Free examination entails no obligation to purchase from us. But if you desire to give us your order our prices will be the very lowest. When persons want their eyes examined they expect to find neatly fitted up rooms, free from intrusion, by other people—for you always find at our parlors. We carry the largest stock of optical goods in all the latest details. Delays are dangerous. Come to-day, to-morrow may never come. Try us and save money. Patients desiring this can visit either our Newburgh or Middletown offices.

BOATS FOR A DOLLAR.

A Fleet That Carries the Life of the World.

Millions of Tiny Craft With Human Blood for Their Sea.

The microscope has revealed many wonderful things, but none more wonderful than the minute bodies which exist in the blood. They are called corpuscles or cells, and are of two kinds, the white and the red. Just a few words about these red cells. They are so minute that there are countless numbers of them in the tiniest drop of blood. Yet each one has a peculiar shape, for which none of them ever vary.

An adult of medium weight has about twelve pints of blood in the body, and yet every small drop of this contains millions of red corpuscles. The number of them in the blood cannot be comprehended by the human mind. Of what use are they?

One great object of breathing is to bring the oxygen of the air in close contact with the blood which is in the lungs, for oxygen is necessary for the support of life. It is the business of these little red cells in the blood, to carry the oxygen which we breathe in the lungs to every part of the body. The most minute part of every organ and tissue in the body must have its supply of oxygen or it will perish, and the only way the oxygen can reach all these parts is by means of these little red cells. No matter how pure the air may be which we breathe, if there are not enough red cells in the blood to carry a sufficient amount of oxygen through the body we will surely suffer. Plenty of fresh air is essential, and so is an abundant supply of these little "oxygen-carriers" necessary. These little red bodies have been called "boats for carrying oxygen." Certainly not a very bad name for them.

Oxygen starvation is shown by poor circulation, loss of appetite, debility, anaemia, nervousness, neuralgia, sleeplessness, repeated colds, muscular and mental weakness, and many other symptoms. What is the remedy? Something which will make more of these oxygen-carrying "boats." Nothing will accomplish this quicker than Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil with Hypophosphites. It goes to the foundation of things. It greatly increases the number of red corpuscles in the blood. What follows? More oxygen is carried through the system, and new life and vigor are imparted. The oil nourishes the body, and the hypophosphites gives stability and strength to the nervous system. As the large size of Scott's Emulsion sells for one dollar, so you can get "oxygen boats for one dollar."

Scott's Emulsion contains more pure Norwegian Cod-liver Oil than any other emulsion in the world, that will stand the test of time as being a perfect inseparable emulsion. Ask your doctor

A Note From the Editor.

The editor of a leading paper writes: "If you had seen my wife last June and were to see her to-day you would not believe she was the same woman. Then she was broken down by nervous debility and suffered terribly from constipation and sick headache. Bacon's Celery King for the nerves made her a well woman in one month." John J. Chambers, 57 North street, near Post Office.

A Baby's Life Saved.

ADDISON, N. Y., April 8, 1895.—Hand Medicine Co.:—"I feel it my duty to write you in regard to my little daughter's sickness from teething and indigestion. She is seven months old. Two of the best physicians gave her up. One bottle of Dr. Hand's Teething Lotion relieved her so much that we tried Dr. Hand's Colic Cure also, and at once saw a change for the better. These remedies saved my baby's life.—Mrs. Wellington Brown." Dr. Hand's Colic Cure and Dr. Hand's Teething Lotion sold by all druggists, 25c.

Sciatic Rheumatism Cured.

L. Wagner, Wholesale Druggist, Richmond, Va., says: "I had a fearful attack of sciatic rheumatism, was laid up almost two months; was fortunate enough to get MYSTICCURE for RHEUMATISM. This cured me after a doctor's prescription had failed to have any effect. I have also heard of fine results from others who have used it." Sold by J. E. A Short Cut to Health.

To try to cure constipation by taking pills is like going round in a circle. You will never reach the point sought, but only get back to the starting point. A perfect natural laxative is Bacon's Celery King, the celebrated remedy for all nerve, blood, stomach, liver and kidney diseases. It regulates the bowels. J. J. Chambers, 57 North street, near Post Office.

Young mothers dread the Summer months on account of the great mortality among children caused by bowel troubles. Perfect safety may be assured those who keep on hand DeWitt's Colic & Cholera cure, and administer promptly. For cramps, bilious colic, dysentery and diarrhœa, it affords instant relief. W. D. Olney.

Moffat's Pills are truly the woman's best friend, because they cure all female obstructions and genera weakness. Try them.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.

The Case of Morris vs the O. and W. Given to the Jury This Morning—Milk Adulteration Suits.

GOSHEN, June 3.—Justice Gaynor, last night, held court until a late hour, in order to give the attorneys a chance to finish the case of Morris against the O. and W. Railway Company. The Judge, this morning, delivered his charge, which was a clear cut exposition of law, and impartial in every respect. The jury retired at 9:35 o'clock to deliberate on their verdict.

The verdict rendered, this afternoon, was no cause of action.

H. B. Fullerton, Esq., succeeded in getting his adulterated milk cases on trial, and got a verdict for $100 in the case against Joseph Lipsett. He then called the one against J. K. Sloat, a farmer of near Bloomingburgh. Mr. Sloat defends his case, and has engaged J. L. Wiggins, of Middletown, to act for him. Mr. Wiggins at the outset of the case raised a delicate point as to the authority for bringing the suit. The plaintiff proved his case in the usual way, by the testimony of the Inspector who took a sample of milk, and the chemist who made the analysis.

When the plaintiff finished his case Mr. Wiggins called Mr. J. K. Sloat to the stand. He testified that he did not receive the sample until three months after it had been sent him. The milk, he said, was just as it had come from the cows. There was no water in it and he did nothing to adulterate it.

Mr. Wiggins asked that the suit be dismissed upon the ground that a cause of action had not been established. The motion was denied. Mr. Wiggins summed up for defense and Mr. Fullerton for the people.

In the case of Green against Sly, Judge Fullerton and Mr. O'Neil have agreed to refer it to Wm. Vanamee, Esq., of Middletown, and that interesting matter will be tried before him.

Case No. 84 was next called. This is the one of Isaac Banker, of Goshen, against the Postal Telegraph-Cable Company. The case was at the request of defendant held over for a short time and No. 87 was called. This is the case of Alfred L. Brown against A. C. Wakeman. This is the suit of a physician to recover damages for slander and promises to be of considerable interest. A. H. F. Seeger appears for plaintiff and R. Ketcham and M. H. Hirschberg for defendant.

The case of Catherine Paire against the city of Middletown was, to-day, put over to the November term.

The suits against the Middletown-Goshen Traction Company, in which Charles W. Ramble and Fred C. Snyder, by guardian, were plaintiffs, were settled to-day.

There are daily a greater number of ladies present than formerly, and it is an attractive spot for them. Mrs. Gaynor, wife of the presiding Judge, was present to-day.

THE "ARGUS" IN A NEW DRESS.

Very Appreciative Words From an Able Contemporary.

(From the Port Jervis Gazette.)

THE MIDDLETOWN ARGUS on the first of June indulged in the luxury of a new dress. It is brevier and, of the latest cut, and greatly improves the appearance of this always interesting and well edited newspaper. The publishers have shown good taste in the selection of the type. It is very handsome. The ARGUS announces that as soon as the advertisements can be reset, new type will take the place of the old in them, and the paper will then have a complete new dress which it thinks will be a little neater and more up-to-date than any newspaper in this section of the State. We congratulate our contemporary on the event and trust that its readers will more than ever appreciate this excellent newspaper with its crisp editorials and fresh, reliable and thoroughly readable news. There is no paper received by the Gazette which is more appreciated than the ARGUS.

THE NEW ERIE DEPOT.

Wisdom of the Company in Asking Estimates From Local Builders.

The Erie Railroad Company, in giving Middletown builders an opportunity to bid for the erection of the new station building in this city, is acting in accordance with a suggestion made in the ARGUS several weeks ago. At that time we said that it would be right and expedient for the Erie to give local builders a chance to compete for the contract and that to do so would be but a just recognition and grateful acknowledgment of the generous patronage accorded the Erie by Middletown for so many years. We are glad that the Erie has acted in accordance with our suggestion and for the sake of Middletown mechanics, many of whom will be given work on the building of the station, we sincerely hope that a Middletown contractor may secure the job.

A Surprise Party.

Mr. and Mrs. O. J. J. Wesley were given a pleasant surprise, last evening, by about thirty of their friends who marched in upon them unannounced and took possession of their home and held possession until about 2 o'clock this morning.

There was whist playing, music and singing and all present had a good time.

Visit of Grand Officers.

Some of the officers of the Sovereign Grand Consistory of Masons, will be present at the meeting of Union Consistory this evening and will deliver addresses. A full attendance of members of the consistory is desired.

Most coughs may be cured in a few hours or at any rate in a few days, by the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. With such a prompt and sure remedy as this at hand, there is no need of prolonging the agony for weeks and months. Keep this remedy in your house.

HABITS.

Some Have Them and Others are Not Without.

A man likes some hot drink for breakfast, and coffee suits his taste about as well as anything. It seems hard that so many should be denied coffee because it upsets their liver and disagrees with them in one way and another, still this condition does exist, and when a man finds it hurts him, he is generally sensible enough to leave it out of his bill of fare; for it is quite a bit pleasanter to feel well all day than to enjoy a drug two or three minutes and pay for it in aches and ails or sickness.

A new breakfast drink has come into use, difficult to tell from coffee, but made entirely of grains which never produces any disagreeable results. It has the clean, pungent flavor so much enjoyed in coffee, but while coffee hurts the system, Postum Cereal goes to work in downright earnest to "make red blood."

It is composed only of the grains intended by nature for man's subsistence. These are skillfully blended and prepared in such a way as to produce a hot drink the facsimile of rich Mocha or Java coffee, but lattening and healthful. Stomach, liver and bowel troubles disappear when coffee and tea are left off and the food drink, Postum, taken in their place.

This toothsome drink goes about three times as far as coffee, and produces health and comfort where trouble formerly existed. It is made by the Postum Cereal Co. Lim., of Battle Creek, Mich. When a man or woman "feels mean" day after day or every few days, it can quite safely be charged to incorrect habits, and coffee and tea drinking are the real cause of more bodily disorder than any one knows. A habit is hard to get over, but when a delicious tasting article is offered which produces health instead of tearing it down, the change is easy to make. Prominent grocers say it exactly meets a want, and persons who have been kept from coffee on account of their health are now having all the enjoyment of coffee drinking and getting fat over it.

"Just as good" as Postum Cereal are words used to defraud the public.

A PINE BUSH MAN'S BAD LUCK.

Got Drunk in This City and Was Robbed of or Lost $30.

A man from Pine Bush accosted an officer, last evening, and attempted to tell a tale of woe concerning the loss of $30. He was too drunk to talk intelligently, and was locked up. This morning he could not remember anything about himself or his doings of the afternoon and evening, but was thoroughly satisfied that he had been "touched" for $30.

The Recorder considered the loss of the money to be sufficient punishment for the charge of intoxication, and therefore discharged him.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of Testimonials.

UNFORTUNATE MILK FARMERS.

Heavy Losses Entailed by the Failure of the Circleville and Neelytown Creameries.

Farmers in the vicinity of Circleville lose about $1,800.—two months' milk bills, by the failure of E. Seaman, proprietor of the creamery there. Neelytown farmers, who sold milk to Seaman, lose about $2,300.

The losses entail a great deal of hardship in many cases, and all who know how much hard and confining work is involved in the production of two months' milk, and how much in actual cash it cost farmers to make milk during the months for which Seaman has "stuck" the farmers who sold him will have most abundant sympathy for them in their losses, and will condemn most severely the man who led them by false promises to continue to supply him with milk after he must have known that he was hopelessly involved.

The Independent Republican gives among the Neelytown farmers who lost by Seaman's failure, the following: Michael Connelly, $100; Cahill Bros., $300; John P. Covert, $350; Robert Cahill, Ebenezer VanAlst, $225; Theo. Crist, $150; Jesse Booth, $400; White Brothers, $150; Horace Warren, $80; Rigney Bros., $300.

A NEW BUNCO GAME.

How a Fishkill Landing Man Was Robbed of $430.

A new bunco game was worked, not long since, on a French saloon keeper of Fishkill Landing, named Martin. Two men and a woman called on him and his wife some time ago and told them that they wanted to arrange for the adoption of a child by a respectable family, and would pay $2,000 to the family taking the child. The Martins jumped at the chance. The sharpers then said they must put $400 in a tin box, as a guarantee of good faith, they (the Martins) to keep the box until the baby was brought. Several weeks passed and no baby appeared and then the Martins opened the box and found that an empty one had been substituted for the one in which the money had been placed.

A PLAGUE OF GRASSHOPPERS.

Swarms of These Insects Destroying Vegetation in Sullivan and Delaware Counties.

Reports from Sullivan and Delaware counties are to the effect that myriads of young grasshoppers have made their appearance, and farmers fear a worse scourge than they experienced, last summer, when, in many localities, every green thing was devoured by the pests. The young grasshoppers have already began to destroy flower beds and gardens, and the worst feature of the situation is that fresh swarms of the insects are appearing every day.

According to a celebrated anatomist there are upwards of 5,000,000 little glands in the human stomach. These glands pour out the digestive juices which dissolve or digest the food. Indigestion is want of juice, weakness of glands, need of help to restore the health of these organs. The best and most natural help is that given by Shaker Digestive Cordial. Natural, because it supplies the materials needed by the glands to prepare the digestive juices. Because it strengthens and invigorates the glands and the stomach, until they are able to do their work alone. Shaker Digestive Cordial cures indigestion certainly and permanently. It does so by natural means, and therein lies the secret of its wonderful and unvaried success.

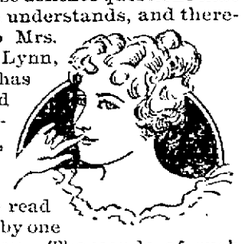
ASKING QUESTIONS.

It Is a Woman's Prerogative, and She Uses It.

Timely Questions and Prompt Answers Have Resulted in Great Satisfaction to Many Women.

Sensitive women hate to ask their physicians those delicate questions that only a woman understands, and therefore write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., as she has ever proved their most accurate adviser, and knowing that their letters will be read and answered by one of their own sex. Thousands of such letters have been received within a few months from those afflicted with the various forms of female diseases, and it is needless to say the answers have brought comfort and relief.



That sense of dragging in the groin, dull pains in small of back, retention, suppression of menses, bearing-down pains, headache, nervousness, blues, etc., are symptoms that require prompt measures.

The cure is, in most cases, rapid. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound should be promptly taken, and Mrs. Pinkham will furnish any advice required, free. Following is another letter of thanks:—

"Please accept my thanks for the little book which you have sent me. It has opened my eyes, and told me that there is a remedy for suffering women. There is no need for women to suffer, if they will only take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I suffered for years with painful menstruation, thinking there was no remedy for it; but after reading your little pamphlet, I thought I would give your medicine a trial, and it is wonderful how quickly it relieved me. I recommend it for all women who suffer with painful menstruation." —MRS. GEORGE NEEBOSS, Crittendon, Erie Co., N. Y.
